WRONG BREAKFAST
 Change Gave Rugged Health.

Many persons think that for strength they must begin the day with a breakfast of meat and other heavy foods. This is a mistake, as anyone can easily discover for himself.

A W. Va. carpenter's experience may benefit others. He writes:
 "I used to be a very heavy breakfast eater but finally indigestion caused me such distress, I became afraid to eat anything.

"My wife suggested a trial of Grape-Nuts, and as I had to eat something or starve I concluded to take her advice. She fixed me up a dish and I remarked at the time that the quality was all right, but the quantity was too small—I wanted a saucerful.

"But she said a small amount of Grape-Nuts went a long way and that I must eat it according to directions.
 So I started in with Grape-Nuts and cream, I soft boiled eggs and some crisp toast for breakfast.

"I cut out meats and a lot of other stuff I had been used to eating and my life was so gratified to see that I was getting better right along. I concluded I had struck the right thing and stuck to it. I had not only been eating improper food but too much.

"I was working at the carpenter's trade at that time and thought that unless I had a hearty breakfast with plenty of meat I would fail before dinner. But after a few days of my "new breakfast" I found I could do more work, felt better in every way, and now I am not bothered with indigestion."

B NATURAL CLUB
HAD DELIGHTFUL FETE.

A Charming Cantata Was Followed by Old Fashioned Dancing at Miss Potter's Home.

Softly illumined by the glow of many gleaming electric lights as well as by the twinkling stars and the rising fullness of the moon, the embow-ered grounds at the home of Miss Ella F. Potter on Starr street presented a fascinating scene on Wednesday evening for the cantata and accompanying lawn fete d'ansante of the B Natural club. The affair, with an attendance of nearly one hundred, was most gratifying success for Miss Potter and those who assisted her in this ambitious undertaking.

Under a charming rose arbor the cantata, A Garden of Flowers, was sung by the members of the club, the various numbers being these:
 The Morn' chorus; The Larks and Nightingales, duet by Mrs. Frank L.
 Russell and Mrs. Baker; Goodnight, White Butterfly, trio by Mrs. William F. Bailey, Miss Ruth Potter and Mrs.
 Reuben P. Potter; contralto solo, Lovely Rosebud, Mrs. Reuben P. Potter; Soprano chorus; The B Natural club, chorus with soprano obligato by Miss Gertrude Young; The Happy Streamlet, soprano solo, by Miss Jessie Clifford; Quartette, Goodnight, White Butterfly, Mrs. Frank L.
 Russell, Miss Edna Baker and Mrs. R.
 P. Potter.

The large audience was enthusiastic in its reception of the talented efforts of these ladies and the selections by the Bass Clef double quartette, led by Charles D. Geer were applauded cordially.

Mrs. Charles D. Geer played the accompanyments for the B Natural club singers; the gentlemen were unaccompanied. After this formal programme refreshments were served and on the lawn old fashioned dancing was in order to old time tunes and old stentorian tones of the now decadent prompter.
